

Regulatory Update

Ecuador– Regulatory Authority Change

The Ecuadorian Regulatory Authority, SUPERTEL (Superintendencia de Telecomunicaciones), has now been replaced by ARCOTEL (Agencia de Regulación y Control de las Telecomunicaciones).

There is no foreseen impact on the Type Approval Process and products which have already obtained Type Approval in Ecuador under the SUPERTEL approval scheme are not affected and remain valid.

There continues to be no specific labelling requirements for Ecuador.

Applications currently under review at the regulator are expected to be delayed by approximately 1-2 weeks due to the transition period currently in process.
