

Regulatory Update

9th April 2015

Malaysia Implementation of Online Self Labelling Program

SIRIM, The Malay Authority for Type Approval applications has implemented a new Self-Labelling Program (SLP).

The Self-Labelling Program will replace the conventional labelling system and will apply to all telecommunication and RF equipment imported into and sold in Malaysia, including those products previously approved.

As of 01 June 2015, physical label issuance by SIRIM will cease and no longer be valid. This will be replaced in full by the Self-Labelling Program. Only the local Approval holder will be able to apply to use the Self-Labelling Program.

The transition period to Self-Labelling Program has started and applications and registration for SLP may now be made by Local Approval Holders via SIRIM.

Online application and product registration can be made by accessing e-ComM website at <http://ecomm.sirim.my> Upon log-in, choose the 'Self-Labelling' and the page will be directed to the application form.

Certificate Mark

The SLP certification mark itself consists of two components:

- MCMC logo
- Unique ID

Example of SLP certificate mark (8mm x 8mm minimum size):

ABCD12345678 = Unique ID – CID/HID
ABC = CID-Common ID or HID Certificate holder ID
D = Manufacturer: M-Local, F-Foreign
12 = Year
345678 = Running Number

Example: CIDF15000001

Difference between CID & HID:

CID (Common ID) – assigned to principal per country
HID (Certificate Holder ID) - assigned to Certificate Holder, regardless of any Principals / Manufacturers upon application.

Both e-labelling and surface labelling will be permitted.

Notes regarding e-labelling:

- Must be incorporated with built in display.
- Supported by Firmware or operating system (OS) which can be displayed, stored, and retrieved* from the product.
- Cannot be erased
- Method for retrieval shall be published in the documentation that accompanies the product.

Surface labelling

- Engraved or embossed or printed or any method of marking.
- Shall be legible, durable and readily visible.
- If printed or using adhesive sticker, the ink shall be permanent / indelible i.e. cannot be smeared or rubbed off.

For further information on this article, please contact

Matt Eldridge
Product Compliance Specialists
matt@productcompliancespecialists.com